

IRWIN

The House of Zest and Gratitude

Named in honour of: Professor Steve Irwin

Significant achievements/contribution to society: Steve Irwin, also known as 'The Crocodile Hunter', was an Australian zookeeper, environmentalist, conservationist, and television personality. He grew up loving all wildlife, especially reptiles. He treasured every opportunity to share his love for wildlife with people.

Irwin has been recognised all over the world for his work. For example, he posthumously received a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. His efforts live on through Australia Zoo, with a focus on rescuing and rehabilitating wildlife, crocodile conservation, and tracking programs.

Irwin was awarded an Honorary Professorship by the University of Queensland's School of Integrative Biology.

In 2004 he was recognised as Tourism Export of the Year, and nominated for Australian of the Year.

Australia Zoo has a vision to be the world's best zoo, conveying Irwin's message of 'conservation through exciting education'. The passion and dedication he showed throughout his life made Steve Irwin an iconic figure.

WAR CRY

We got the rhythm (repeat)
We got the motion (repeat)
And when we're together (repeat)
We cause a commotion (repeat)
We are Irwin (repeat)

No one can be prouder (repeat)
And if you can't hear us (repeat)
We'll shout a little louder (repeat)
I - R - W - I - N
GOOOOO IRWIN!!
